

Burdock Seed

Arctium lappa (Compositae)

Description of crop:

Burdock seed is produced on limited acreage (about five acres) every other year in the Columbia Basin and in the Skagit Valley. Burdock is an edible root exported to Asian countries. Due to the limited acreage in Washington, additional information is unavailable.

